Here at MyMidOhio.com our news is your news! No really - it's literally your news!

Are you a business who is having a special sale or event? Did you recently add a new product line? Tell us about it!

Are you a club having a contest? Are you a community member who is getting engaged or having a baby? Have a legal announcement you need to make available to the general public? Post it here!

We do not employ journalists at Mymidohio.com All of the things we talk here about are things that our community wanted talked about and took the time to write about! Whether your issue be of a serious nature or is about fun stuff don't be bashful; Share it with us!

You may share your news with us by submitting it to one of our topical categories. Your article will appear in our topics database for all to see. If we don't have a good category that fits we'll happily make one for you.

We think what you have to say is important - so give it a good write up and be sure to use proper grammar, spelling, and punctuation because if we really like it too we will feature it on our homepage!
