

Raising Richland Community Garden Summit hosted by NECIC

2018-03-07 21:14:29 by MelissaH0243

This FREE event features speakers and cooking demos to help you live a more sustainable life! Kids are welcome and even have their own program!

Thursday, March 8th, 2018: 5:00pm - 8:00pm

@ the Longview Center, 1495 W. Longview Ave. Mansfield

Adult

Speakers:
Dave Duncan - Beekeeping 101
Sophia Buggs - Healthy Soil
Susanne Gerhart - Preservation - Cooking Demo

Fun! Youth

Explore the Amazing
Underground World in Our Soil

Educational Gardening Activities for Children!

 We will have local vendors selling: glass garden art, teas, tinctures, honey, lip balm, soaps, and much more!

Free Event! Public Welcome!

Summit Organized by:

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL NECIC @ 419.525.3101

The North End Community Improvement Collaborative (NECIC) invites the public to the FREE Raising Richland Community Garden Summit!

There will be activities for both adults and children featuring speakers and cooking demos to help you live a more sustainable life!

There will be three great speakers, and some great vendors, so be sure to bring a little cash and spoil yourself or a loved one. Some of our vendors will offer great information instead of products - check them out as well!

Speakers:

Dave Duncan - Beekeeping 101

Sophia Buggs - Healthy Soil

Susanne Gerhart - Preservation, Cooking Demo

Vendors:

LaserCraft Enterprises

Green Patch Organics

Beeology

The Ohio State University- Microfarms Project

Mansfield/Richland County Public Library

Richland Public Health

Richland County Master Gardeners

Richland Soil and Water

Mansfield in Bloom

North End Community Improvement Collaborative

The youth will be able to Explore the Amazing Underground World in Our Soil as well as participate in educational gardening activities!

Thursday, March 8th

5:00pm-8:00pm

Longview Center

1495 W. Longview Ave., Mansfield

For more info call NECIC at 419-525-3101

Photo Credit: Facebook Event Page