Mansfield Symphony: Joyous Finale at the Renaissance Theatre

2018-05-07 16:25:06 by MelissaH0243

Ending the 17-18 OhioHealth Symphony Series on a high note, Maestro Octavio Más-Arocas conducts a sensational concert of the greatest symphonic repertoire of all time featuring the Mansfield Symphony Chorus and the Shelby High School Chorus.

The concert will open with an adaptation of Michael Thomas' original work, Sentimental Journey: Voices of WWII, a musical tribute to the heroes of World War II. Over 100 veterans, their wives and children were interviewed for this project, and their collected stories, both harrowing and hilarious, are woven into the tapestry of this one-of-a-kind musical revue that features the best-loved songs of the 1940s. The second half of the concert will be a robust performance of Shostakovich's powerful Symphony No. V.
